Detailed Notes - Chapter 1

DSC-101 | Unit 1: Politics and Political Theory | Meaning of politics and its difference from Political Science and Political Theory

FYUG Study Hub | Assam University BA FYUGP | NEP 2020

Learning focus: Meaning of politics and its difference from Political Science and Political Theory. Define the key terms and place the topic within the wider syllabus.
Core explanation: Explain the central concept in clear language. Identify its origins or constitutional/intellectual context where relevant, and distinguish it from related concepts.
Main points: Organise the answer into meaning, characteristics, types or institutions, significance, limitations and contemporary relevance as applicable.
Critical perspective: Consider competing interpretations and objections. Avoid treating contested political ideas as universally agreed facts.
Examples and revision: Use relevant Indian constitutional provisions, political thinkers or institutional examples only where they directly support the point. End with a concise summary.

Prepared as syllabus-aligned study material. Verify class notes and prescribed readings for course-specific emphasis.
